

2004 Re-Application Information for the Critical Use Exemption of Methyl Bromide for Pre Plant or Post Harvest Use in 2006 and beyond in the United States

INSTRUCTIONS

For those applicants that are re-applying for a Critical Use Exemption (CUE) for 2006 and beyond the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency may already have some of the needed information. This document lists the portions of the CUE application form which will not have to be completed unless the information has changed. For those applicants that completed an application form in 2002 but did not complete an application in 2003 the entire form must be filled out.

As you may know, the U.S. government uses the information you submit in the application to develop the U.S. Nomination for a CUE for Methyl Bromide. Applicants may wish to review the 2004 CUE nomination documents to see if any information should be augmented. These documents are available at the following website, http://www.epa.gov/ozone/mbr/2004_nomination.html .

Worksheet 1, Contact and Methyl Bromide Request Information

Complete all portions of the worksheet.

Worksheet 2A, Methyl Bromide - Crop and Pest Information,

Complete only those portions of the worksheet that have changed.

Worksheet 2B, Historical Use for 1997 – 2003

Complete all portions of the worksheet.

Worksheet 2C, Methyl Bromide – Crop/Species Yield and Gross Revenue

Complete all portions of the worksheet.

Worksheet 2D (1&2), Methyl Bromide – Baseline – Operating Costs for 2003

Complete all portions of the worksheet.

Worksheet 3 A, Alternatives – Technical Feasibility of Alternative to Methyl Bromide

Complete only those portions of the worksheet that have changed. Only include research data newer than 2002 unless not previously included. Include relevant studies newer than 2002 even when the results are not different than previously submitted research.

Worksheet 3 B, Alternatives – Changes in Operating Costs

Complete only those portions of the worksheet that have changed.

Worksheet 4, Future Research Plans

Complete all portions of the worksheet.

Worksheet 5, Application Summary

Complete all portions of the worksheet. If the application is for calendar year 2006 as well as calendar year 2007 please include the pounds and area requested for 2006 and 2007.